

Suitable alternatives for withdrawn qualifications

Sport and Physical Activity

Withdrawn Level 1 qualifications have a suitable NCFE or Active IQ replacement identified. For each of the legacy qualifications, centres should identify how learners progress. The NCFE replacement is a more general introduction to the sector and leads well onto other general Level 2 or 3 programmes, whereas the Active IQ replacement better leads on to professional qualifications in gym instructing or personal training.

NCFE Level 2 and 3 qualifications are split into four pathways: Sport, Exercise and Fitness, Outdoors, Working in Sport and Leisure, and Sports Coaching. This means they can be tailored to meet any provider need. The qualifications provide a greater level of choice and flexibility than others currently available at these levels. They are also part of nested suites, enabling transition between qualifications of different GLH, and are all graded Pass/Merit/Distinction/Distinction*

- Level 2 suite has two different nested qualifications of GLH 180 and 290.
- Level 3 suite has five different nested qualifications of GLH 180, 360, 540, 720, and 1080.

Some legacy Level 2 and 3 qualifications also map to CIMSPSA professional standards, and two Active IQ reformed replacements have been identified. Centres should consider factors such as GLH, UCAS points, and progression into employment/HE when deciding whether to use NCFE, Active IQ, or a combination of replacements.

Business and Management

All withdrawn Active IQ qualifications are replaceable with a similar NCFE qualification.

- All those NCFE replacements containing 'Principles of" in the title are knowledge-only qualifications.
- All other NCFE replacements contain both knowledge and skills.

In some cases, there may be a choice of two replacements, one of each type. All replacement qualifications are graded Pass/Fail.
